Then, With

Clarity And

Deliberate Action

Your Success Can Begin!

We Strive for Clarity and Deliberate Action

I. Clarity on what?

If you were clear on what to do, you would be doing it, not reading this. However, you are searching and hopefully not relying only on your own conclusions. Good!

II. What action?

The action steps that you decide to take. An action step must work for you and must work as well for any who would network with you to build a business.

For Example Here Are Two Things You Need Clarity On.

1. A home based business does better when “Networking” is it’s business tool.
2. “Targeted Customers” are the best customers for most businesses.

Clarity on “Targeted Customers” is shown later as Key #1.

Clarity

Clarity is a factor that changes when there is an open mind and a willingness to learn.

When you become clear on a number of things, that clarity should help you see what is reality, not wishes. Only when there is clarity can you start to build solidly.

But if you are presented with something new and you depend only on your own conclusions, what have you gained?

You will be better served when you view the presentation and then learn what the viewpoint of the presentation is, not just your own conclusion of it. The purpose is to see things from another perspective before you form your final conclusion so the new information can place you in a position to reach your goal.

Action

Clarity helps to identify the right actions to take.
Clarity also identifies the misleading actions to avoid.

If you already knew what success action keys to take, you wouldn't be here looking for that information. You have probably already experienced negative results from following misleading information that resulted in wasting your resources. We understand how often and how easily this happens.

Through much effort, we have gained clarity on which action keys need to be followed for success. This is what we offer in our free coaching to anyone who chooses to network with us.

Effective Action Keys can be developed only after there is Clarity.

We will not reveal our marketing tools at this time,
but we want to give you more information that will help you clarify things.

Our vision, motivation and tools are for those who network with us, who team-up inside our network. But . . .

Here Are 5 Critical Action Keys

Key #1: Your success in attracting targeted customers.

Key #2: The income opportunity you choose.

Key #3: Your willingness to be coached.

Key #4: Your willingness to help others.

Key #5: Your willingness to invest your resources.

Key #1: Your success in attracting targeted customers.

The one key area that most people fail to understand and implement has to do with:

“Attracting Targeted Customers”

Without targeted traffic, you will definitely have difficulty marketing or recruiting prospects. And “recruiting is a very critical part of network marketing.”

If you’ve done everything right but you are lacking in this area, success is difficult to achieve. Simply, a business needs clients!

Online or offline, this is one of the most coveted keys of business. We have the tools to make this happen and we will share this with those who join our team of networkers. We even share our contacts.

Key #2: The income opportunity you choose.

The business opportunity must accomplish certain things for you!

What really is "The Best Home Business Online for You?"

You must qualify the business first before you can give it such a notable distinction.

It's about the business that must work for you, not just the business that looks good and which seems to be working for someone else.

Some people are turned on by a hyped-up opportunity. Around every corner there is one waiting to entice your entrepreneurial traits.

Key #3: Your willingness to be coached.

After you've begun to qualify a business and discovered the necessary details, next you need to examine yourself to see if you fit into that environment.

The business opportunity must allow you to feel that you can fit in and work it reasonably! It should not go against the grain of your make up.

Can you learn new skills that the business demands, and do you have the personal characteristics to promote it? Learning a new skill is OK if you allow enough time to make it a part of you, enough for you to be comfortable to turn it into the best home business for you.

Really, a business does not work the same for everyone.

Key #4: Your willingness to help others.

The opportunity has to work for others you would bring into the business. If it is not something others can easily do themselves, they will get frustrated and quit. Where will this leave you?

Involvement in the Network Marketing Industry demands that others be able to duplicate your efforts to a certain degree.

You don't just find out how you personally fit into a business, but you must get to know the business in great detail, including its pitfalls. This allows you to be the expert on the matter and able to mentor others so they can succeed in the business.

If this doesn't fit for those you bring into the business, then you will struggle to build your business.

Key #5: Your willingness to invest your resources.

Investing your money and time is one thing, but do you understand the need to have a good coach or mentor?

Then you must also understand the need to be a good coach or mentor. You must be someone that can provide assistance and direction. Don't just mimic what the so-called gurus say.

Our goal is to make it work for you. In turn you should strive to make it work for your network. If it doesn't work for them, they will quit. So help them, or this will mean you've wasted your time recruiting.

Remember: Recruiting is a critical part of Network Marketing.

People often settle for investment strategies they are familiar with. . .

Even if those strategies are clearly mediocre!

Today we present a Superior Strategy to you!

We encourage you to view 2 professional video presentations found at the links on the next page. These videos are just to help you become aware of the opportunity with a company called Global Domains International (GDI).

Our strategy for those who join the Trifocal Marketing Group network is to provide support and direction for this GDI opportunity. We will even go as far as helping you with targeted leads to grow your business.

Part of our strategy includes using a special sponsor code as a tool. This sponsor code will allow you to participate within the network. It enables us to strategically position you within our network and you can also have new networkers placed in your network when available. You will receive free coaching, recommendations and lead generation tools to help you build your business.

Caution: Do not join this GDI opportunity without receiving this special sponsor code from us. If you use a different code, you will be attached to that owner/system, if they have a system. You will be given our special code by email. Remember: The opportunity is with GDI, and the network is with The Trifocal Marketing Group.
